

March 17, 2022

To our Good Food Box Depot Coordinators and Clients,

To our valuable clients, we thank you for being part of our Good Food Box Program. We understand how valuable this program is to so many of you. With the staggering price increases in the cost of fresh produce we are seeing in the grocery stores, we are pleased to be able to still provide our Good Food Boxes to you at a great affordable price. With that being said, we are having challenges on our end with a lack of supply, delivery limitations and the overall increase in the cost of produce. However, we want to reaffirm to you, our priority is to continue offering you great prices with the most value on our Good Food Boxes and we will continue working tirelessly with our suppliers to get the best produce and prices for you and your families. We recently completed a comparison in pricing with our three box sizes and 6 major grocers in the city. We are happy to report we are still coming in way below what you would pay at the stores, in some cases close to half the cost. We are proud we have been able to keep these costs down for you and your family, but ask for your understanding while we navigate through these trying times. While sometimes the weight and items in the box may be down a bit, the value of the produce inside is never compromised. We also want to take this opportunity to say a big "Thank You" to all our GFB depots and their volunteers, who work so hard to get these boxes into your hands! The Community Kitchen's Good Food Box Program continues to look forward to supporting you and your family in the future.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Sundae Nordin".

Sundae Nordin (CEO) and the Good Food Box team of Ian Undseth, Lorrie Herrick and Judy Anderson